RECOVERY

Completing a day's workout with a relaxing sauna makes perfect sense. It helps a tired body erase muscle and body aches, feeling invigorated and refreshed. There are other positive benefits of a sauna on the body, particularly after a good workout, making it a smart addition to any club environment.

HEALTH

For thousands of years people have used saunas as a way to relax, unwind, relieve stress and generate mental clarity. Perspiration is good for the body and mind. Adding a sauna to a daily routine has been shown to assist in improving overall health. Our saunas are perfect for enhancing any health, fitness or sport club offering.

TECHNOLOGY
FOR CONTROLLING
THE HEAT

Managing sauna conditions are the basis of sauna enjoyment. Sauna comfort, time segments and lighting are easily controlled by innovative technologies. Monitor heat times and temperatures, and adjust settings remotely. Digital touch screens can be programmed to be simple and automated to fit the setup of your facility.

TECHNOLOGY
FOR THE SOURCE OF HEAT

The basic purpose of the sauna experience is age-old, yet our methods of using them has changed. Traditional heaters use rocks and steam to heat the room, ultimately the body. Our infrared heaters use an invisible light source to heat the body directly, bypassing the room. The benefits of both are similar, but the environments are quite different.

TRADITIONAL HOT ROCKS HEAT

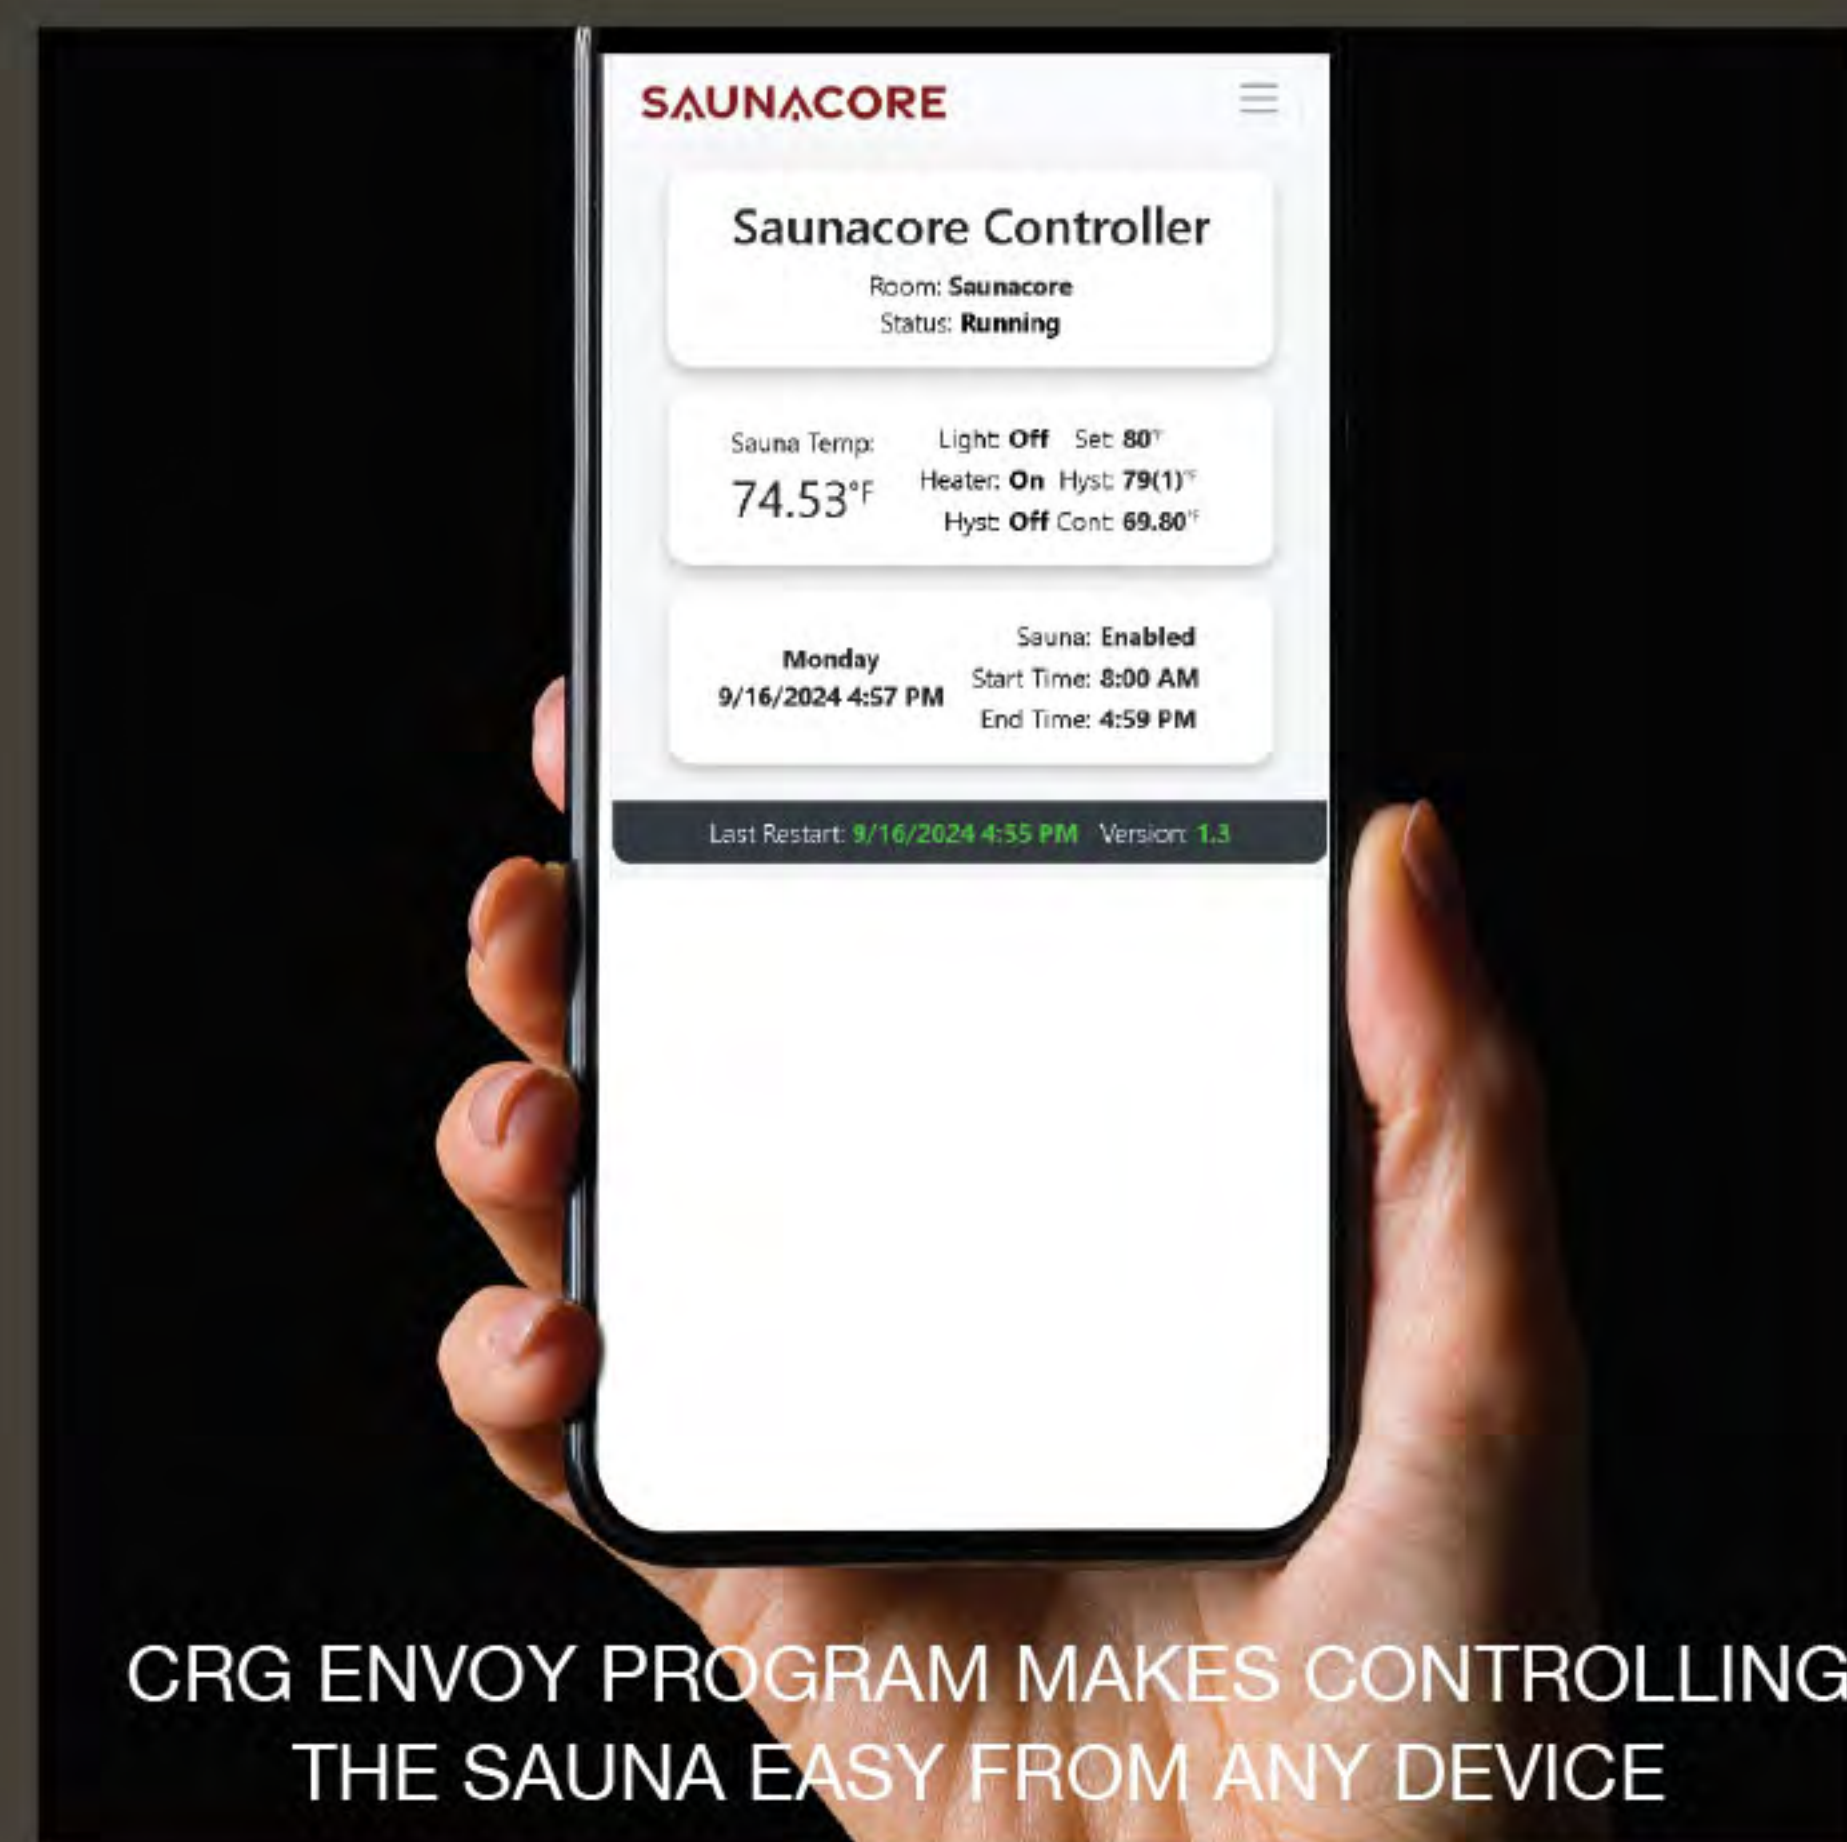

CHOOSING
the correct heat

We can help choose the type of heat source that best serves the purpose of your facility. Although the benefits of each are similar, the environment differs in each. Infrared heat saunas provide a more dry, lower heat experience. The traditional style, hot rock heater experience is warmer, with humidity levels fluctuating. Perhaps a dual system is best, for a varied sauna experience.

CHOOSING THE RIGHT LAYOUT

We collaborate with you to plan the right sauna configuration for your facility. No matter the size or volume of your club, we just need some basic measurements and details to get started. CRG can take care of the rest, making sure you get the best sauna, based on your space, your needs. We can also suggest features to enhance the sauna experience.
